

Interstate 17/SR 89A Intersection Improvement

In spring 2014, the Arizona Department of Transportation will start a realignment and intersection improvement project about three miles south of Flagstaff that will reconstruct the interchange at Interstate 17 and JW Powell Boulevard.

The improvement project will realign State Route 89A/Beulah Blvd. in the vicinity of Fort Tuthill County Park and construct two roundabouts, one at the entrance of the park and the other at the I-17 southbound ramps, to provide a safer transition for traffic through the intersections.

The new roundabout intersections, will also include bike lanes and sidewalks. The roundabouts will be constructed about 400 feet apart and will be designed to accommodate current and future traffic demand.

Traffic restrictions, such as lane closures, will be required during construction. Please sign up to receive email alerts at azdot.gov.

As part of this safety improvement project, ADOT will be thinning trees within the project area in advance of construction.

To learn more about this project, including how the wood from the thinned trees will benefit families in the Flagstaff area, visit the project's web page at azdot.gov/I17_Powell.
